Boston, April 22.-The annual report of government and the company, with a resume of the non-action taken by congress on the Outhwaite bill. The report then continues: "The result of the closing months of the last year, with the present outlook for the current year, would not justify the directors in resuming the payment of dividends. During the last year, owing mainly to deficient crops in Kansas and Nebraska, which adversely affected sand Nebraska, which adversely affected all roads operating in those states, the surplus revenue of the Union Pacific proper (1,78:00 miles) fell below the average and amounted to $2,50,814, as compared with $3,59,06 for the year immediately preceding. This equalled 4 12 per cent on the company's stock during the year. In the Union Pacific report, published to day, the history of the Oregon Short Line is given; also the termination of the contract of 1882 governing the relations of the two companies. One provision of this the directors found last year had never been fulfilled, being that which apportioned the earnings from joint traffic on a basis of straight mileage. The variation from the contract was never demanded by the Short Line nor the authorities of the Union Pacific. A division on the basis of the contract would show that May 31 last, the Short Line owed the Union Pacific considerably more than $2,300,000, instead of $1,800,458, as shown by the published report. The Short Line directors, in July, asked for a revision of the contract of 1882, and referees were appointed. In November they reported practically confirming the division of earnings which had been in ber they reported practically confirming the division of earnings which had been in operation. At the annual meeting the stockholders of the Union Pacific are to be askek to ratify the agreement between the companies on this basis. As the government does not allow the Union Pacific to construct branches, a number of these lines have been constructed by separate companies which the road controls. These companies number fifty-eight, and are cumbersome. The directors therefore recommend that the Oregon Short Line, Utah & Northern, Utah & Nevada, and the Ogden & Syracuse be merged into one.

MISS CLAGGETT'S MARRIAGE.

Miss Ida B. Claggett, a sister of the Miss Claggett whose elopement was reported in the INDEPENDENT some ago, furnishes the following to the Wardner News, with the equest that all Montana papers copy. The etter is dated Osburn, Idaho, April 6, and is addressed to the editor of the Spokane

"Having just read your article in Tues day's Review, entitled an 'Idaho Romance,' elating to my sister's marriage, I send you -day an open letter, which I request you publish without comment, in vindication of a father who towards her, as towards us all, has ever been kind, indulgent and in that many of the statements made are so exaggerated that they present only the semblance of truth, while the total and absolute falsity of others testifies to the malice or prejudice or your informant. You say that when my sister and myself first came to Murray she was then eighteen or nineteen years of age. My sister is not yet nineteen and it was because of her youth that my father objected to her marrying now, and promised her that would she wait for two years, free from any engagement now, and promised her that would she wait for two years, free from any engagement in the meantime, she should be united to the man of her choice, not only with his paternal consent, but with his every wish for her happiness. Mr. Lucas, who is six-teen years her senior, and had my sister then said she had decided to take the final step, independent of her father's wishes, he would have sent her to Portland where she could have been married with the sanc-

he would have sent her to Portland where she could have been married with the sanction of her mother.

You say the engagement ring was returned. The engagement ring never existed, for the engagement itself was formed without my father's knowledge, and he received Mr. Lucas as a welcome guest, because he understood from the latter gentleman that there was and should be nothing but the ties of friendship between my sister and himself.

Respectfully yours,

Respectfully yours,
IDA B. CLAGGETT.

Thousands of people have waited for the pening to settlement of that portion of the ndian Territory known as Oklahoma, only to be disappointed. There are in Oklahoma ess than 12,000 quarter sections of land to be occupied, and more than 20,000 people ave been waiting for months on the border be occupied, and more than 20,000 people have been waiting for months on the border for the opportunity to cross the line and take possession. The whole of the land will have been occupied within forty-eight hours of the date set for the opening of that portion of the territory, consequently thousands of intending settlers will have to seek elsewhere for homes.

The two new states of South and North Dakota will reap a benefit from this general exodus to the west. No fairer country than Dakota exists. Hundreds of thousands of acres of the best government land age still open for free settlement in Dakota. Gitles, towns and villages furnish a near and ready market for the products of the country. Railways innumerable traverse Dakota in all directions and provide unequalled transportation facilities. Schools and churches abound everywhere. Dakota is a new country no longer. The climate is excellent. The soil is highly productive. The population is mostly of the best class of American citizens who have gone thirter from the older eastern, middle and western states. Every inducement exists for the farmer and mechanic to make a new home at trifling cost, while the capitalist can secure greater and quicker returns for financial investments in Dakota than in any other state in the union.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, which has lines of its own in both South and North Dakota, has just issued an illustrated pamphlet entitled "Plain Facts about Dakota," containing numerous letters from farmers and others which are well worth reading, as they show the results of each writer's personal experience in the northwest, and convey a great deal of valuable and reliable information

Which will be of benefit for those seeking new homes in South and North Dakota.

B. M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo., says: "I have used Ayer's Hair-Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."

Mrs. S. A. Rock, of Anderson, Texas, writes: "At the age of 34, in Monroe, La., I had a severe attack of swamp, or malarial, fever. After I got well my hair commenced coming out, and so continued until it had well nigh all gone. I used several kinds of hair restorers, but they did no good. A friend gave me a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before finishing the first bottle my hair began to grow, and by the time I used three bottles, I had a fine head of hair."
